

The Historie.

the life of a mā: but to counterfeit dying when a man thereby liueth, is to be no counterfeit, but the true & perfect image of life indeed.
The better parte of valour is discretion, in the which better part I haue saued my life. Zounds I am afraid of this gunpowder Percy, though he be dead, how if he should counterfeit too and rise?
by my faith I am afraid hee would proue the better counterfeiter, therefore ile make him sure, yea, and ile sweare I kild him. Why may not he rise as well as I? nothing confutes me but eies, and no body sees me: therefore sirrha, with a new wound in your thigh, come you along with me.

He takes vp Hotspur on his backe. Enter Prince John of Lancaster.

Prin. Come brother Iohn, full brauely hast thou flesht
Thy mayden sword.

John of Lan But soft, whom haue we heere?
Did you not tell me this fat man was dead?

Prin. I did, I saw him dead,
Breathlesse and bleeding on the ground. Art thou aliue?
Or is it fantasie that playes vpon our eiesight?
I preethe speake, we will not trust our eies
Without our eares, thou art not what thou seemst.

Fal. No thats certaine, I am not a double man: but if I bee not Iacke Falstaffe, then am I a lacke: there is Percy, if your father will doe me anie honour, so: if not, let him kill the next Percie himselfe; I looke to bee either Earle or Duke, I can assure you.

Prin. Why Percy, I kild my selfe, and saw thee dead.

Falst. Didst thou? Lord, Lord, howe this world is giuen to lying, I graunt you I was downe, and out of breath, and so was he, but we rose both at an instant, and fought a long houre by Shrewesburie clocke, if I may be beleeuide so: if not, let them that should rewarde valour, beare the sinne vppon their owne heads. Ile take it vpon my death, I gaue him this wound in the thigh, if the man were aliue, and would denie it, zounds I would make him eate a peece of my sword.

John. This is the strangest tale that euer I heard.

Prin. This is the strangest fellow, brother Iohn,
Come bring your luggage nobly on your backe.
